

Fight

short story

Von deadside

The steel whip wrapped around the Gear with such a speed, its inmate had no possibility for any kind of reaction to defend his Gear. As the inmate finally reacted, the steel whip had started to absorb the energy of the Gear. Bart smiled in his Omnigear and ripped back his whip. The energy lacking Gear broke down. As he looked right, Bart saw that Citan and Fei had also destroyed their opponents.

"Looks like we're ready here." meant Bart via intercom to his two mates.

"Not really." notified Fei the others and his Gear showed to the sky, where something was coming closer. The scanners in the cockpit of Andvari identified the object as an unknown Omnigear. When the Omnigear came in range, all three knew which Gear it was. "Ramsus never gives up.", was Citan's only comment. "This will be our last meeting!", said Ramsus very sinister and landed in front of the trio. On the left side of his Omnigear a sword was hanging which he now took out of its sheath. "Are you ready to die? hehehe."

Fenrir and Andvari, the Omnigears of Citan and Fei, made one step to the front to give a bit defence to Weltall 2, the Omnigear of Fei. Ramsus watched all this in his Omnigear Cryptus and then attacked Weltall 2 directly with his sword. Weltall 2 dodged the sword but hadn't reckoned with the foot which followed the sword hit. Then Cryptus went back in his origin position and blocked expertly the attack of Fenrir who also fought with a sword. But he hadn't much to hold against the whips of Andvari, while he blocked the hits of Weltall 2 without a problem. This went on for some time at which Andvari and Fenrir also put in some bashes.

With the time the trio had to thought of doing something because Ramsus was good and them were running out the fuel. Without big thinking, Fei used the System - Id and grew the power of his Omnigear on this way for three, four attacks until the limit, while Citan and Bart cast elemental spells on their weapons. Ramsus just grew the defense power of the armour from his Omnigear and concentrated his main attacks on Weltall 2. During the next ten attacks Ramsus diverted a part of the Gears energy into the sword. Bart and Citan activated their Boosters for being able to attack faster what Fei omitted because the System - Id cost lots of fuel. The regeneration of Weltall 2's armour had also cost lots of fuel. Suddenly Cryptus headed towards Weltall 2, the sword which was glowing a bit lifted to the sky. Fei wanted to dodge but Cryptus was faster and his bash broke through Weltall 2's armour. Ramsus had to find out unsatisfied that Weltall 2 wasn't destroyed but in the whole he had forced Fei to kneel very deep because of the high armour and engine damage. Bart and Citan looked very shocked to Weltall 2. "I'm not dead yet. Let's finish off that bastard!" said Fei via intercom. The Trio turned to Cryptus. Two Infinity - attacks later was Cryptus also kneeling because of the damages. Cryptus wanted just start another attack on Weltall 2 but was almost destroyed by a big energy beam coming from Weltall 2. "We'll see us again!" croaked it in the intercom before Cryptus flew away with the last bit of energy.
